Bill,
I certainly have enjoyed running to first period with you next year I think I'll have to take the door off. My only regret is that I didn't report you to the SPCA sooner. Best wishes always.

Yours truly,

Bill,
I have really enjoyed being in your French class this year. You put up with an awful lot from me, I know. I hope your life at Warwick will be as wonderful as mine has been. Have fun and may God bless you. You won't be afraid of girls all your life, I'm sure.

Love always,

Shadows cast along the halls—
Bringing to mind the friendly faces, laughter of happy students, slam of locker doors, running feet of students late to class, gay posters.

Shadows cast across the classroom—
Bringing to mind the long hours of industrious study, helpful teachers, lively discussions, challenging exams, pleasure of doing a job well. All these things enrich the alert minds of youth.

Shadows cast along the auditorium—
Bringing to mind concerts, assemblies, plays the students worked so hard to produce and present, class and S.C.A. meetings.

Shadows cast across the football field, basketball court, baseball diamond, hockey field—
Bringing to mind the pride we have in our teams, the tenseness of a tight game, the joy of winning, the disappointment of defeat.

Shadows cast along the cafeteria—
Bringing to mind the mad rush to the lunch line, the fun during recreation nights, and the most special event—the Senior Prom.

Shadows cast along the library—
Bringing to mind the wealth of knowledge contained there, the quietness of study, fines for overdue books, the trojan horse.

Shadows cast deep in the memories of our minds needing only a reminder to bring these shadows into light and life.

Foreword

When you see a shadow cast, do your thoughts turn to the object which casts it? When you see the shadows cast by previous classes, do you think of the students who added to these shadows: the murals painted on the walls . . . the ideas contributed in student government . . . the trophies won by students competing for Warwick . . . art exhibits . . . the honor roll . . . the reputation of Warwick.

As students, we are contributing to these memories; we are casting our own shadows.

MRS. JOSEPHINE Q. MUIRE

Dedication

Patience, understanding, and a genuine interest in others have made her one of the outstanding teachers at Warwick High. Her desire to give and receive knowledge has been expressed through the endless hours which she has devoted to the students.

Her fine qualities as a teacher, leader, and counselor have afforded her the respect of all who know and meet her; through her years of teaching, she has gained admiration of teachers as well as students.

Because of these assets, we the student body, dedicate the 1961-62 WARWICK to MRS. JOSEPHINE Q. MUIRE.

Dr. R. O. Nelson, Superintendent of Newport News Public Schools.

This past year the public school system for the city of Newport News was under the capable direction of Dr. R. O. Nelson. Dr. Nelson and his assistants maintained a school system which ran efficiently and to the advantage of both teachers and students.

Some of the men who acted as Dr. Nelson's assistants in operating the public schools were Mr. T. Ryland Sanford, Assistant Superintendent for Business and Finance, whose duty it was to supervise the payroll department and take care of all purchases and loans for the schools; Mr. S. D. Green, Assistant Superintendent for Maintenance and Planning, who was in charge of making the necessary physical improvements of the schools; Mr. Charles B. Shreeves, Assistant Superintendent for Curriculum and Instruction, who investigated the courses of study undertaken by the students; and Mr. George J. McIntosh, Assistant to the Superintendent, whose duty it was to interview teachers and other necessary personnel for the school system.

There were three members of the administration who are more familiar to us. Mr. George Richards, our principal, supervised the running of the school, assisted by Mrs. Virginia Kostyal, and Mr. William Formichelli. They endeavored to carry out the tasks of providing a better place to work and study, and promoting a better relationship among the administration, faculty, and students.

Mr. S. D. Green, Superintendent of Maintenance and Planning.

Mr. George J. McIntosh, Superintendent of Personnel.

Mr. T. Ryland Sanford, Jr., Superintendent of Business and Finance.

Mr. C. B. Shreeves, Superintendent of Curriculum and Instruction.

To the students of Warwick High School:

I have the solemn duty as your principal to administer this school in such a way that each of you may be guided into living life in its fullest sense, keeping it well balanced intellectually, socially, morally, and spiritually. Offering you the mental and physical tools with which to build sound bodies and minds is the aim of this school.

Words are but vehicles for ideas and when they are forgotten, the ideals which they carried are often in the hearts of hearers. The part that Warwick High School has played in shaping your lives is evidenced by the attitudes you exhibit.

Through the principles and ideals given to you by education, realize the tasks before you; and with the help of God, go on to meet those tasks. Go as shining examples of what an American education really means.

Office Staff

The office staff, composed of Mrs. Lucille Leviner, Mrs. Polly Pursiful, Mrs. Catherine Dewees, Mrs. Alice Lundeen, and Mrs. Illa Hamlett, is an essential group to our school. They can be found in the office between the hours of 8:30 and 5:00, carrying out their numerous duties of typing, mimeographing, making appointments, compiling statistics for state reports, checking absentees, completing transcripts, and working to keep the twenty-two hundred students on schedule.

Guidance Department

The duties of the Guidance Department, directed by Miss Jean Atkinson, were many and varied. Counselors were always ready to answer student questions concerning high school credits, colleges, scholarships, and job opportunities.

The department supervised registration of new students, standardized testing programs, and the College Entrance Examination Board tests. One of the largest accomplishments was sponsoring College Day to aid students in preparing for their futures.

Senior Class

When the members of the class of 1962 arrived at school in September, after many years of working and waiting, hardships and happiness, they had finally become seniors. Behind them were many happy memories of their three years together at Warwick High School.

As sophomores they battled the maze of halls and the endless stream of strange faces. These soon became familiar to them; and as they enthusiastically joined committees, participated in sports, and elected officers, they had become a part of Warwick High.

By the time they became juniors, the class was well represented in all school groups and organizations. The highlight of the year was the arrival of their class rings, which they proudly showed to everyone. These were constant reminders that they would soon be seniors. The year was climaxed by the prom. They worked hard, planning and preparing it, in order to give the seniors the best one ever.

With the full realization that these students were seniors came the realization of the responsibilities and hard work waiting for them during the year. Besides setting examples, and keeping their grades above average, they had caps, gowns, and invitations to order, college applications to fill out, an assembly to present, and football, basketball, and baseball games as well as track meets, to help win.

All was not work, however—they used their senior privileges as much as possible and everyone enjoyed an eventful Senior Day. The seniors also had the excitement and fun of attending the prom. Then came Commencement night. As they left with diplomas in hand, they realized sadly that their wonderful high school days were over; but they faced the future with high hopes, confidence, and determination.

Junior Class

The work, excitement, and secrets of planning the prom, class projects, committee meetings, the long awaited junior rings, college day, sports events—these memories run through the Juniors' minds as they remember their first year as upperclassmen.

The prom was the biggest class project. The class officers and the junior class sponsor, Mrs. Dorothy C. Quesenberry, began preliminary plans as soon as school started. Various committees, such as Theme, Invitations, Decorations, Refreshments, and Clean-up, were set up and selected. Actual work for the prom began in late spring. Decorations to carry out the secret theme were completed carefully, a band was selected, chaperones chosen, and finally the invitations were sent to the Seniors. The endless hours of work required the time and effort of every Junior, but from this they developed a greater sense of unity.

Junior names appeared in connection with all school activities. The new upperclassmen were outstanding academically, in student government, in honor council work, and in sports. They were enthusiastic about the school dances, plays, and pep rallies. They took their places as ushers, committee members, and several participated in the publishing of The Warwick, The Earle, and The Plough.

The arrival of their bands of gold with the significant '63, and the tradition of having them put on by the Seniors will be a long remembered highlight of this year for the Juniors.

As the Junior year reached its close, they realized how enjoyable it had been. They looked forward to their Senior year with anticipation, but also with sadness, for it would be the last of their years at Warwick.

Sophomore Class

The Sophomores walked into Warwick High with mixed emotions. The maze of corridors was confusing, but the prospect of learning about the school and all the organizations presented quite a challenge.

The infectious school spirit at Warwick soon caught on, and with the assistance of friendly upperclassmen they became acquainted with the building and functions of the J. V. football, basketball, and track teams. Some such as the science, math, and language clubs, depending upon their particular interests.

Along athletic lines the boys became vital members of the J. V. football, basketball, and track teams. Some of the more qualified boys made varsity teams. Four of the girls were J. V. Cheerleaders. In the physical education classes, the girls were introduced to hockey, fencing, tennis, and archery. Those with special interest joined the G. R. A. and developed their skill further.

The Grenadier Band welcomed the students with musical ability. The sophomores also displayed their talents by acting in the dramatic productions.

The S. C. A. provided important training in leadership and self government. In their first class meeting they elected class officers. Later the homeroom officers were chosen. They learned how our S. C. A. and honor council function. Two sophomores served on the honor council.

They found that Warwick High offered many opportunities for service, but they realized the importance of studying diligently and preparing for their future years. As the 1962 term came to a close, they eagerly looked forward to being upperclassmen, but they remembered their wonderful times as sophomores at Warwick High School.

Freshman Class

The wonderful days of being a freshman at Warwick High, had finally arrived for the class of '65. Having attended Warwick Junior High last year meant adjusting once again to a new school. At first they were bewildered and dubious, but as they wandered through the endless halls they found friendliness and assistance from the upperclassmen.

There was plenty of studying to do and many new subjects were offered, but it wasn't long before they were enthusiastically joining the various activities offered. Three of the girls were chosen to serve as J. V. cheerleaders and added their pep to the games and assemblies. The boys contributed their ability to J. V. football and basketball teams, and also tried tennis and track which were new to them this year. For the girls, tennis, archery, and hockey were the new sports they learned and enjoyed.

Also new for them this year were the homecoming festivities in which they participated. They sent one of their prettiest girls to represent them on the court.

Another phase in which the freshmen were active was the student government. They sent representatives to congress and the honor council and supported the committees by working diligently.

As the year drew to a close, the freshmen looked back with fond memories of their first year at Warwick, then thought ahead with bright prospect to their sophomore and future goals, for they were then truly a part of Warwick High School.

Having Trouble?

They entered with high hopes

Eighth Grade Class

Upon their arrival at Warwick High School, they were bewildered and frightened by the crowds and the large school. Getting lost in the halls as they changed classes and going into the wrong classrooms were all part of this exciting adventure. Rarely seeing a familiar face among the many strangers added to their bewilderment, but before long these strangers became friends. Having straightened out their schedules and having learned their way around these new surroundings, they settled down to the normal routine.

The eighth graders began accepting their responsibilities as high school students. One of these responsibilities was planning their curriculum for the next four years of school. This was important in helping them prepare for the future, for the courses they took would guide them in their vocational choices.

They participated in varied activities. Contributing their ideas to committees, choosing an attendant for the homecoming court, and representatives to S. C. A. Congress, and to the honor council were a few of the ways in which they served their school. The election of class officers gave some of the students an opportunity to show their leadership abilities. The boys contributed their talents to the Junior Varsity teams, while the girls engaged in such sports as soccer and basketball. These newcomers enthusiastically tried their hands in the fields of art and drama as well as sports.

They learned to work with each other and with the upperclassmen. They followed the examples set by older students and in turn set examples of their own. Goals were established by these youngest members of Warwick High, who strove to meet them and thus to improve their school. They will think back to this year as a transitional period; a time when they began to form new ideas and accept new responsibilities; an exciting adventure which they thoroughly enjoyed.

The Executive Council began making plans for the coming year during the summer months.

Ronnie Clough, Federation treasurer; Ivan Mears, S.C.A. chaplain, and Mr. Wingfield, S.C.A. sponsor.

S.C.A. Executive Council

The Executive Council, composed of the S.C.A. officers elected by the student body, the S.C.A. chaplain, the five class presidents, and the two S.C.A. Peninsula Federation Officers, played a very active part in the function of the student government at Warwick High School during the year 1961-1962. Under the leadership of J. W. Stallings, S.C.A. president, the Executive Council accomplished many of its objectives.

One of the Executive Council's largest projects was the organization of a chapter of the National Honor Society at Warwick. Its purpose was to create among the students a desire for obtaining and sharing knowledge, an appreciation for scholarship and learning, as well as to create a stimulus towards service and leadership.

The Executive Council also initiated the changes for the renovation of the S.C.A. Constitution.

Among its numerous duties and objectives were the electing of outstanding students for the months of the year, the organization of a leadership-training committee, and the establishment of better communications between the S.C.A. and the student body by the distribution of the minutes of S.C.A. meetings to the homerooms, the encouragement of more student participation in school activities, and promoting changes for the betterment of the school. In addition to these, it approved committee activities and helped sponsor many federation activities.

Much of the Executive Council's success could be accredited to the generous help and guidance of Mr. Richard Wingfield, S.C.A. sponsor, who contributed much to the development of a stronger, more progressive S.C.A.

The Executive Council, along with Congress, the committees, and the administration, worked hard to reach the goals they set and with the aid of the student body made Warwick High a school of which to be proud.

S.C.A. Congress

The Congress of the Student Cooperative Association under the leadership of J. W. Stallings, S.C.A. president, had a very prosperous year. Composed of the Executive Council, the class officers, the committee chairmen, who are non-voting members, and the homeroom presidents, Congress represented the voices of the student body. It was through these representatives that the opinions and ideas of the students were presented, discussed, and carried out. Congress met once a month to discuss the various orders of business such as electing the members to the Executive Honor Council and S.C.A. Federation and the planning of various projects sponsored by the S.C.A.

Perhaps the project of which the S.C.A. could be the proudest during the year was that of the campaign for CARE, conducted primarily by the homeroom presidents. It was an excellent demonstration of the cooperation between the student body and their government.

Another chief duty of Congress was to keep the student body informed of all S.C.A. activities and the encouragement of student participation in these activities.

The S.C.A. Congress worked hand in hand with the S.C.A. Federation. The weeks such as "Know Your Federation Week," and "Americanism Week," designated by the Federation, were a tremendous success thanks to promotion by the homeroom presidents.

With the help and guidance of Mr. Richard Wingfield, S.C.A. sponsor, and Mr. Richards, the student government was able to function smoothly and effectively and accomplish many of its goals.

Honor Council

The purpose of the Honor Council was to promote a feeling of honesty and self-respect in the individual student and, therefore, to prepare him better for later life.

The Honor Code was revised this year to clarify the duties and procedures of this organization. To achieve its goals, the Council was divided into three parts: the Executive branch, the Honor Committee, and the Students.

The Executive Council was composed of 11 students, two representatives each from the eighth grade, freshman, sophomore and junior classes and three from the senior class. These students were elected to their positions by the S.C.A. Congress. They interviewed the student who violated the Code, pointed out how repeated violations affect his future, and explained the rules he violated.

The Honor Committee acted as a bond between the Executive Council and the student. Honor can be promoted only if this student-to-student relationship is encouraged.

The Students and their behavior were the greatest and most important part of the honor system. Students were encouraged to inform themselves about the democratic processes of this organization which was closely connected with the Judicial Branch of the S.C.A.

The Honor Council's work was greatly aided because the junior and senior representatives were elected the latter part of the previous school year. The students were kept informed about their Honor Council through news articles in both school and city newspapers and more Honor Committee meetings. The infractions were clearly defined and copies sent to each homeroom.

The Honor Code has given the students the privilege of handling their own problems to a large extent. It was created by the students not to punish but to give warnings and explain the rules to the violators. The students of Warwick should be proud of their Honor Code, their school, and themselves.

Orientation

To acquaint new students with the school is the purpose of the Orientation Committee. Committee members wore identification tags and managed information booths during the first week of school to direct the new eighth, ninth, and tenth graders to their classes. Posters displaying smiling Farmers, prepared by the members of the Committee, also greeted the newcomers on the first day of school. THE HANDBOOK, a book of information about the school, was distributed to the new students who came to school a day before the upperclassmen returned.

Building and Grounds

This year's Building and Grounds Committee, under the sponsorship of Coach Jim Hubbard, completed many projects for the beautification and upkeep of the school.

During the first month of school, the committee, working on Saturday mornings, edged the sidewalks in front of the school.

A sub-committee, under the leadership of Andy Kowalski, inspected the erosion in the parking lot behind the baseball field to determine what work should be done.

These were only two of the many projects accomplished by the committee.

Projects

Functioning for the first time this year, the Project Committee accomplished two major goals. The first, a project for others, was a CARE fund-raising drive held at Thanksgiving. With the six hundred thirty dollars raised through homeroom donations, CARE sent food, medical supplies, school libraries, and self-help kits to the needy in lands throughout the world.

The second was that of a display of events and activities at Warwick which was taken to the State S.C.A. Convention in March.

Pep Committee

The Pep Committee, under the chairmanship of Vivian Moberg and Doug Dobson, participated in one of its most active years. Early in the fall, through the sale of Warwick High School pennants, they added $115 to the S.C.A. treasury. In January they sponsored the long to be remembered School Spirit Week. Various events in this week added another $115 to the S.C.A. treasury. A dummy hung in effigy, pep rallies, posters promoting school spirit and elaborate displays praising the athletic teams were only a few of the accomplishments of the committee.

Leadership Training

The Leadership Training Committee was a new addition to the S.C.A. this past year. It worked to promote better leadership through all phases of school life and better participation in the student body.

The meetings were well attended and an assembly, to familiarize the students with the S.C.A., was produced during the first semester. In the second semester a Leadership Training Clinic was held which included speakers, films, and discussion groups on techniques of leadership.

Ending a successful first year more plans are in store for next term.

Homecoming

The Homecoming Committee, directed by Louisa Wilson, chairman, accomplished many of its aims. The activities of this committee were centered around the presentation of the Homecoming Court and Queen. A pep rally, the sale of corsages, and an assembly in which boys served as cheerleaders and girls portrayed football players, were only a few of the events sponsored by this committee. The week was climaxed by the crowning of the Homecoming Queen at a dance following one of the Warwick football games.

S.C.A. Federation

The 1961-62 Peninsula Student Co-operative Association Federation was composed of the four peninsula high schools: Hampton, Newport News, Ferguson, and Warwick. Seven delegates were elected from the congress of each school to represent the students at the meetings. The main purpose of these meetings was to promote a better relationship among the schools and to create an exchange of ideas.

Donald Schwartz of Newport News served as president of the 1961-62 Federation. He was assisted by Stan Trimble of Hampton, vice-president; Harry New of Ferguson, second vice-president; Brenda Veazey of Newport News, secretary; Ronnie Clough of Warwick, treasurer; Jean Clodfelter of Hampton, parliamentarian; Bill McIntire of Ferguson, historian, and Cary Flowers of Warwick, reporter. Participating for the first time, Ferguson elected delegates to fill the two newly created offices of second vice-president and historian. Advising the group were Mr. Wingfield of Warwick, Miss Gildersleeve of Newport News, Miss Layne of Hampton, and Mrs. Passage of Ferguson.

The Federation sponsored four special weeks in each school during the year. Topics recognized were "Christmas Spirit," "Know Your Federation," "Brotherhood," and "Americanism." During "Know Your Federation" week, a committee composed of the delegates presented a skit to familiarize the students with their activities.

Through the Exchange Days held to observe the operation of the activities in the four schools, the Federation succeeded in promoting friendship.

Ushers

Steve Gill and Carolyn Lehew, head ushers

Under the capable direction of their sponsor, Mr. Barclay Sheaks, and with the help of Mr. Robert Wingfield, the S. C. A. sponsor, the ushers for 1961-62 completed an active year, playing an important part in the many activities of Warwick, they were on hand to help at all the school functions: musical concerts, plays, PTA Back-to-School Night, College Day, graduation, and the regular weekly assemblies.

To become an usher, one must have at least two recommendations from teachers, a written essay stating reasons for desiring to be an usher, above average grades, and qualities which would make him a good choice for the job. This would include such things as poise, neatness, leadership ability, and an out-going personality.

This past year there were thirty ushers, fifteen boys and fifteen girls, selected from the junior and senior classes by a committee appointed by the S. C. A. president. From this group the two head ushers, Steve Gill and Carolyn LeHew, were elected. They worked together to supply ushers whenever needed.

Altogether the ushers had an enjoyable year. Each took pride in being able to have the opportunity to participate in this special way at Warwick High.

The Earle Staff

Everything from Warwick's first National Honor Society to a prosperous mice business received the journalistic scrutiny of the thirteen member EARLE staff during the year. Not only did the important news happenings receive their attention, but the staff members applied themselves to learning all phases of their work. They worked during the summer months in order to have a first day edition.

Due to an innovation, originated by Miss Lois Callahan, the EARLE's sponsor, members of the journalism class assisted the regular staff. Each journalism student acted as apprentice to a regular staff member and learned jobs through practical experience. The long-ranged result of this program was greater ease in meeting the dead-line of bi-monthly publication.

Student interest in the newspaper was apparent from the appearance of the first edition. Because students wished to express themselves on vital school issues, the EARLE published an average of two letters to the editor in each of the first six issues. Favor was also expressed for the ROTO magazine which was included in the newspaper once a month.

Due to the interest of the staff members, students, and faculty, the EARLE had a very successful year.

The Plough Staff

THE PLOUGH, the symbol of the search for learning and the cultivation of the mind, was first published in 1955. Until the year 1958-59, either one or two issues were published a year, but, from then on, it became tri-annual and compact in size.

Last year at the Southern Interscholastic Press Association, the Plough was one of two magazines to win a First Place Award. In praise of it, the judges commented that The Plough had an excellent format, reflected regionalism in its material about the sea, and had an overall appeal to everyone, not just high school students.

With the largest staff in history, thirty-seven members, the Plough started this fall with another extensive publicity campaign. When a good turnout of original material had come in, the editor of the various departments judged and carefully selected the best material. After several weeks of arranging, proofreading, and revising, the staff distributed the first issue, which was dedicated to Mrs. Hannah Neugaard.

With the cooperation of the Staff, the students, and the sponsor, Miss Lois Callahan, the Plough accomplished many of its objectives.

The Warwick Staff

The 1962 edition of "The Warwick" was delivered in the spring for the first time since 1955. This new shipping date required "The Warwick" staff to work even harder than usual. The junior members of the staff were completely bewildered at first, but they soon learned from the experienced seniors how things were done. As the year passed, the pages were drawn up, the copy was assigned and the pictures were taken. The jobs seemed endless as the pictures had to be identified, alphabetized or captioned, and the copy had to be read, approved and typed on the pages. Of course, selling the ads loomed big in the minds of all, as none of this would materialize without money. With the help of Miss Shirley Mason, sponsor, the new plans and ideas were carried out successfully. Each editor and her assistant worked earnestly on their jobs, and the completion of the yearbook became a reality.

Every effort has been made to carry the theme of shadows throughout the book into all phases of school life. It is the purpose of the book to bring the dim memories out of the shadows of the mind into full view with each picture.

Quill and Scroll

Active, interested, honored: these words adequately sum up the 1961-62 Quill and Scroll of Warwick High School. Under the leadership of Dianne Kahn, president, and the advice of Miss Lois Callahan, sponsor, this society of young journalists worked together on various projects.

In late fall, an assembly was presented to the student body, to instill a deeper appreciation of our America. Another project was a Communist Symposium which sounded the dangers and fallacies of Communism. The biggest project was the weekly radio program, We, the Young People, over station WGH. In the spring another assembly was presented, this time humorously portraying the trials and tribulations of the past Quill and Scroll year. Through these projects, the Quill and Scroll attempted to live up to its motto: "Ye shall know the truth and the truth shall make ye free." This society can be duly proud of the service it has done for the school and the community.

Each Quill and Scroll member was chosen on the basis of a high scholastic average and journalistic ability. Membership is composed of staff members from The Earle, newspaper; The Plough, literary magazine; and The Warwick, annual.

Each member can well be proud to have been a part of the 1961-62 Quill and Scroll at Warwick.

Thespians

This year will long be remembered by members of the newly formed chapter 394 of the National Thespian Society. Under the leadership of their president, Ellyn Connors, and the direction of their sponsor, J. Vaughan Gary, Jr., the Thespians had one of the most successful years in the history of Warwick's Drama Department.

They started the year off by attracting record-breaking crowds to the fall production, "A Man Called Peter." This high standard was maintained throughout the year both in the one-act plays and the spring production.

Productions constitute only a part of the program of this group whose aim is to work and study together to increase their knowledge in the field of dramatics.

Key Club

During 1961-62 the Warwick Key Club strived toward its goal of service to the school, community, and nation.

The club is composed of thirty-three boys from the sophomore, junior, and senior classes. The members are selected according to character, scholarship, and leadership.

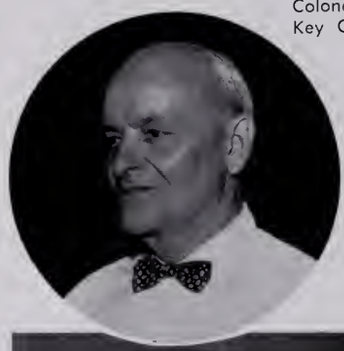

Under the leadership of president, Jim Cowardin, these members realized their goal of service in many ways. Beginning in the summer, the club distributed text books throughout the school. A study hall in the mornings before school and chimes played to provide a time to give thanks during lunch were also sponsored by the club. As a Christmas project, food and clothing were sent to those in need.

The year of service was climaxed by a spring assembly. At this assembly a scholarship was awarded to an outstanding member of the graduating class. The scholarship was given in memory of one of the community's leading citizens. Also presented at the assembly were trophies to outstanding school citizens. The money for these awards was raised by the club through several dances, the collection of newspapers, and the selling of refreshments at basketball games.

The club worked hard and the result was a very successful year . . . a year of service.

The A Cappella Choir under the direction of Mr. Tew rehearses for an assembly program.

This year, the A Cappella choir, under the direction of Mr. William A. Tew, was one of the largest ever formed at Warwick. The sixty-three member choir took part in various assemblies, concerts, and programs throughout the year. It made its first performance at the October P.T.A. meeting and its last at the June Commencement exercise as the choir led the seniors in their class song. Deviating from the traditional Christmas concert, the choir presented a pageant. The Incarnate Word, a modern interpretation of the Christmas story. The Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Valentine's Day assemblies were also among the highlights of the choir's year. In the spring, thirty-one members of the choir were chosen to attend the All State Music Festival. Ending a successful year were the spring and graduation programs.

The Warwick High School Band.

Mr. Smith, Band Director.

Band

The school year 1961-62 was a very successful one for the Warwick High School Grenadier Band. They began the school year by performing at all of the home football games.

They also participated in several parades including the Armed Forces Day Parade and the Oyster Bowl Parade in Norfolk and won top honors at the Christmas Parade in Williamsburg. Adding much to promote the English tradition of the band was the Bagpipe Corps which took an active part in most of the year's activities.

The Grenadiers took part in several school assemblies during the year, including the Christmas Assembly which was one of the band's best performances.

The Band opened the new year with a successful Mid-Winter Concert. Following this some of Warwick's musicians took part in the All-State and Workshop Band held early in February at Princess Ann High School. The Peninsula Solo and Ensemble Festival, which was one of the most important events for the band, was held at York High School. A large number of Warwick soloists and ensembles took part in this annual event.

The highlight of the year for the Grenadiers was their trip to Winchester, Virginia, to participate in the annual Apple Blossom Festival. The band was highly praised for their performance as well as being complimented on their colorful uniforms.

Playing for the Graduation Ceremonies and holding their annual concert at the Mariner's Museum ended a very rewarding year for the Warwick High School Grenadier Band.

Practice makes perfect!

The drum corps is set for another performance.

Varsity Football

The 1961 football season saw the "Warwick Farmers," under the coaching staff of Romie Hamilton, Jim Snow, and Bob Conway, complete an exciting season with a 6-5 record. This season was possibly the best in the past three years.

The 1961 team was composed of 16 seniors and a number of underclassmen. Although this year's team was the smallest in many years, the drive of the boys compensated for the number. The Farmers won the Peninsula Championship, defeating both Hampton and Newport News.

The Warwick High "Fighting Farmers" opened the season with a hard fought loss to Maury ending with a final score of 9-7. Seven thousand students gathered at Foreman Field to witness Buddy Kays gain a total of 183 yards.

The next two games were more successful. Coming from behind, Warwick won the Wakefield game at the Warrior camp with a score of 13-6. In their first home game of the season, spunky fullback Bobby Brown made three touchdowns, enabling Warwick to defeat Granby with a 20-6 score.

The last of the games varied in their outcomes. Warwick suffered losses to Oscar Smith and to Princess Anne, but defeated the Crabbers of Hampton, 39-0.

On Thanksgiving Day, the Farmers ended their season by defeating York 32-7, and by leaving the Warwick spectators with a proud remembrance of their 1961 football year.

Another shot made with the greatest of ease.

The Warwick Farmer basketball team, under the leadership of Coach Wilbur Thompson, experienced an irregular season with much of the trouble due to the inexperience of the team. Junior Captains, David Walker and Conway Smith, were the only returning lettermen. Throughout the season many combinations were tried on the starting team with David Walker, Conway Smith, Bill Bowman, Ronnie Carmean, Artie Peck, Donald Butler, and Danny Cole being the most extensively used players.

The season opened with a victory over York, 50-41. Further wins came over teams such as Suffolk, Oscar Smith and other Eastern District teams.

Though victories this season were not as prevalent as in seasons gone by, the year was not without excitement, with the final outcome of many games being decided at the last minute.

Co-Captain David Walker established himself as one of the top guards in the District and State, with his sharp outside shooting and fast, hard drives.

With this year's team being composed mostly of juniors, a promising season can be anticipated next year.

Varsity Cheerleaders

"Are you proud of your school? Well, yeah man!" shook the the Warwick High stands as the 1961-62 varsity cheering squad led their student body in a spirited yell. It was evident by the enthusiastic and proud smiles of these nine girls that they were working hard at their favorite activity—cheering.

The five seniors and four juniors were chosen the preceding May by the Executive Council, graduating cheerleaders, and two faculty members. They were judged on the basis of—spirit, cheering ability, grades and a paper which each was required to write on "Why I Want To Be A Cheerleader."

Following their election they practiced untiringly at least once a week, and usually more often, all summer, fall, and winter. Teamwork and pep were their goals, and they practiced until the well-known cheers were perfected and new ones were worked up.

The activities of the cheerleaders included, however, much more than cheering at the games. They enjoyed participating in the Homecoming pep rally where a Great Bridge player was burned in effigy and the spectators danced around the bonfire. Teaching the student body the cheers and presenting good luck charms to their teams in the pep assemblies were also highlights on their list of activities. Not to be forgotten too were the trips made to support the teams at out-of-town games.

The maroon skirts and white sweaters of these miniature boxes of dynamite looked sharp as they danced and jumped at the football games. Their megaphones were constantly carrying a shout to the boys on the field, and their pompoms were a whir-wind of maroon and gold as the Farmers fought for a touchdown. In basketball season their uniforms of maroon vests, skirts, and tennis shoes were a familiar sight as they cheered the cagers on.

The enthusiasm and vitality of the varsity cheering squad was contagious as they did their best to serve Warwick High School and to promote their motto—"Sportsmanship, then Spirit."

Baseball

Under the capable leadership of Coach Jim Snow, Warwick hoped for another successful year as in 1961, when they tied for first place in the inter-city standings, and placed second in the peninsula standings. The team was sparked by the outstanding playing of Larry Gammon, Artie Peck, Earl McCormick, and David Smith. This year Coach Snow depended primarily upon the returning letterman, Jerry Jackson, and had high hopes for his new players. According to Coach Snow, this year's team had a good opportunity for recapturing the peninsula championship.

Wrestling

In the pre-season analyses, this year's wrestling team was rated as one of the best in the state. However, a failure to fill the spot at the 105 pound class foreshadowed what was to come. The grapplers didn't look sharp until after Christmas and were just reaching their potential when the semester grades came out. Three first-line operatives were lost to academics; thus, smiting all team title aspirations a disastrous blow.

Phenomenal Billy Fletcher, powerful Frank Emmanuel, and skillful Ned Ball provided the majority of the bright spots for Coach Hamilton, each having maintained an unblemished record. Fletcher, in three years of wrestling at Warwick, compiled an immaculate record of 39 wins and no losses, thus gaining a chance to become the first wrestler in Warwick's history to be a state champion three years in a row.

Tennis

While most of the players from last year's great team graduated, the 1962 Warwick tennis team looked forward eagerly to another tremendous season.

Only six experienced players returned this year, but Coach Warren Chauncey felt that this was enough material to carry the team to another highly successful season. Several members of last year's team had transferred to Ferguson High.

Lettermen Jimmy Cowardin, Jack Wiley, Bobby Sherman, and Mike Fehl were expected to be the top men, with additional help from Jay Maynard and Frank Muire.

Tennis has been on the upswing in recent years and Coach Chauncey, who has seen his teams compile 5-5, 8-3, and 10-1 records in the last three years, only losing to State Champion Suffolk, was hopeful again.

Varsity Track

The 1961-62 Varsity Cross Country, Indoor and Outdoor Track Teams, coached by Jim Hubbard, compiled an impressive record for their efforts throughout the three seasons.

The Cross Counrty Team received a trophy for capturing third place in the Virginia State Cross Country meet, with Andy Kowalski placed second in the two-mile race. The top ten runners for the squad were Andy Kowalski, B. B. Underwood, Kirby Harrison, Claude Harrison, Ric Bahr, Jimmy Verser, Bobby Hansford, Robert Mentzer, Stu Gilman and George Edwards.

A fifth place finish in the Indoor State Meet, and performing well in the Invitational Meet in Richmond, was the high point of the 1962 indoor season. Early in March, several of the distance men competed in a nine mile marathon to represent Warwick.

Top performers for the Outdoor squad were Buddy Kays, Steve Lowe, Ned Ball, Steve Gill, Ric Bahr, Bobby Brown, Andy Kowalski, B. B. Underwood, and Kirby Harrison.

The teams can be proud of their seasons and anticipate another successful year.

Junior Varsity Football

The Junior Varsity team had a rough season this year due to inexperience of the players. Although the record showed a tally of two wins and five losses, it was evident at the games that this young team was playing its best, and there was a lot of Varsity potential for the future!

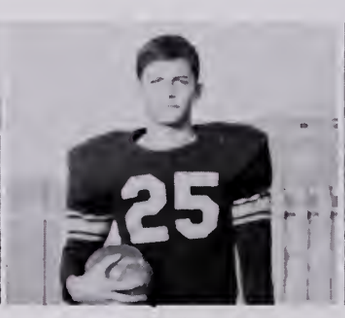

The "Jayvees" were defeated in their first game with Ferguson. At half-time in the Norview game, Norview was leading, 26-0, but during the second half Warwick made a terrific comeback. Warwick held the Pilots scoreless and scored thirteen points of their own. They did a fine job in the Newport News game, even though they were defeated in the last few minutes of play. All the practice and determination of the boys paid off in the Hampton and York games. The play was outstanding, and our team came out victorious in both contests.

The team was sparked by Ronnie Blanchard, who was a quarterback with notable passing abilities, and halfbacks Jim Yeatts and Billy Mitchell. Some other outstanding players included Donnie Horton, Sam Coates, Art Morgan, and Tom Joliffe.

Warwick added a third team this year. The "Baby Farmers," composed of eighth and ninth graders, worked every bit as hard as the other teams, and the effort they put forth paid off in their victory over Ferguson's Junior Varsity team.

J.V. Basketball

Our Junior Varsity basketball team, under the supervision of coach Jim Snow, is the basic training phase for our future varsity cagers. This year it was made up of a majority of ninth and tenth graders who had the ambition and stamina to learn the fundamentals of the game.

They received little recognition for their many efforts, but hoped that by next year, they would have earned a spot on the varsity team. They looked forward to entering into the competition that is not only found in the district, but also throughout the state.

J.V. Track

The 1961-62 Junior Varsity Cross Country, Indoor and Outdoor Track Team, directed by Coach Jim Hubbard, showed considerable improvement throughout their separate seasons, and will form the varsity units for next year's competition.

The Cross Country squad posted a 1-7 record for the season, winning over George Wythe. Letters were awarded to Robert Deans, Tommy Marshall, Chuck Wise, Mark Gregory, Vincent Foley, Melvin Reynolds, and Billy Dunn. Boys who received meritorious awards were Bill Gill, Bill Oliver, Ronald Seymore, and Donald Seymore.

The Indoor squad was not given the opportunity to participate in any Junior Varsity meets, but several of the members were called upon to aid the varsity team. Robert Deans and Bobby Myers competed in the mile relay in the Junior Cross Country meet in Richmond, showing promise for next year's varsity team.

J.V. Cheerleaders

"We've got a team that's really neat!" were the proud words which the Junior Varsity Cheerleaders yelled many times during the course of this year as they aroused enthusiasm among spectators at the many basketball and football games. These ten energetic girls were chosen last spring and have been busy ever since, not only practicing cheers individually, but also working together as a group. Their good sportsmanship and high degree of school spirit helped to make the games more colorful and enjoyable. They were always there in maroon and gold to represent their school at the home and away games. The squad consisted of one junior, six sophomores, and three freshmen all of whom did their part in leading Warwick on to victory!

The Girls' Recreation Association had a very successful year, with over 500 girls participating in the teams and individual sports.

This organization welcomed the unskilled as well as the skilled, from the eighth grade through the twelfth grade. They took part in field hockey, basketball, volleyball, softball, tennis, archery, track and other field events, modern dance, and recreational games.

In addition to the intramural program, teams were chosen from the grade levels to play Newport News High School and Ferguson High School girls in field hockey, basketball, and volleyball. The extra-mural activities were the annual track meeting of the local high schools and the Tidewater Field Hockey Clinic and Tournament.

Awards consisting of school letters, stars, and sportsmanship medals were earned by those who met the requirements of the G.R.A. Point System.

Homecoming

Homecoming 1961-62 was the highlight of fall activities at Warwick High School. The plans for all activities concerning Homecoming were formulated by Louisa Wilson, chairman, who was aided by a committee of about seventy-five active members. This committee was sponsored by Mrs. Conway and Miss Neece.

Over six weeks of planning were devoted to this year's homecoming festivities, which truly began with the sale of yellow chrysanthemums two weeks before the "big night."

At the Homecoming Pep Rally the regular cheering squad was aided by a new group of cheerleaders, some boys distinguished as girls.

"Homecoming at Ooga Mooga," an original play, was the topic of the Homecoming Assembly. The gorgeous "Cleopatra Smiley" was Homecoming queen at that school; however she was completely outdazzled by the presentation of the 1961-62 Warwick Homecoming court.

Due to an electrical failure, the Homecoming football game and half-time figure were postponed from Friday until the following Monday night. Betsy McIntosh, this year's queen, was crowned at the rescheduled game.

Homecoming 1961-62 was a most successful one, as a result of the excellent co-operation and teamwork of the many interested and enthusiastic workers.

American Field Service

This year a door was opened for the first time by the students of Warwick High School. It was the door of international understanding and friendship. Those who pass through this open door are teenagers from more than 50 foreign countries—all interesting, and eager to learn and share with us. Starting with only 50 students in 1947, this American Field Service exchange program has grown so rapidly that there are now over 1800 students participating. Qur chapter was the seventeenth in Virginia.

The other aspect of the A.F.S. exchange is the program in which a Warwick student can be selected to study abroad.

The A.F.S. Club, made up of ten seniors and eleven juniors and sophomores, was responsible for carrying on the school activities and projects this year. Raising the money to finance the program took a big portion of the work that the members contributed to make the organization a success. Two of the projects were an international relations week and a Twerp week climaxed by the Sadie Hawkins Dance.

Although the chapter and club work directly with the American Field Service, it is only through the efforts of the entire student body and faculty that A.F.S. is effective. It is then only that the motto becomes fact and not wishful thinking: "Walk together, talk together, ye peoples of the earth; then, and only then, shall we have peace."

excelled in scholarship

A long held dream at Warwick was realized in the fall of 1961 when a charter was granted to the school for the establishment of a chapter of the National Honor Society. At a special assembly, fifty-eight members of the Senior Class were tapped for membership. Each of these students was honored in recognition of his outstanding qualifications in the areas of character, scholarship, leadership, and service.

The members of the newly organized chapter elected officers and immediately began working to raise the standards at Warwick. Among the projects which were undertaken were the creation of an honor roll recognizing students who met certain scholastic requirements, and a system of tutoring by which National Honor Society students helped others. A banquet in honor of outstanding students climaxed the year —a year which saw the Society establish itself as a vital, active force at Warwick.

One after another, deserving seniors are tapped.

John William Stallings, model citizen, devoted worker, and conscientious student, truly earned the admiration and respect of both teachers and fellow students of the Class of '62.

J. W.'s ability as a Senior Leader is marked by outstanding scholastic achievement and by extracurricular participation. His scholastic standing earned for him membership in both the National Honor Society and in the literary society of Quill and Scroll. Other facets of his participation included lettering in varsity football and J.V. basketball, serving as both sophomore and junior class presidents, and leading Warwick's S.C.A. as its president. J. W. inspiringly served as chaplain of the Key Club, and was chosen "Best All Around" among the senior personalities.

J. W. intends to study law at either Dartmouth College or at Washington and Lee University.

It is with high regard for his congenial personality, for his integrity toward duty, and for his contributions toward the welfare of others, that we honor him as Senior Leader.

Senior

Ivan Lee Mears, who has placed God first in his life, others second, and himself last, exemplified leadership and service in all phases of school and community life. His warm personality and genuine interest in others added warmth to the lives of everyone who knew him.

Ivan served his school as S.C.A. Chaplain and his church as vice-president of the District Methodist Youth Fellowship. He also diversified his participation to the Key Club, the National Honor Society, the French Club, and chairman of the A.F.S. finance committee.

In the dramatic production of "A Man Called Peter" Ivan played the lead as a famous minister. He participated in varsity football for two years, and represented Warwick at Boys' State and as a delegate to the S.C.A. Federation. He truly earned the title of "Most Likely to Succeed" and demonstrated those qualities needed to be chosen a Senior Leader.

His warm, sincere smile and noted intelligence have combined to make William Henry Byrn, Jr., one of Warwick's most highly regarded Senior Leaders.

Bill was a finalist in the National Merit Scholarship Test and has accomplished outstanding achievements in the field of science.

He has served his school in many ways during his three years at Warwick—as president of the Science Club, a member of the Key Club and of the Student Co-operative Association, and as secretary of the Amateur Radio Club. During his senior year, Bill was tapped into the National Honor Society, and was voted "Most Intellectual" among the senior personalities in his class.

Bill's high academic record, his strong character, and enthusiasm in all phases of school life, have certainly served as a good example for those associated with him.

Best wishes from all of the students and teachers at Warwick High go with this most deserving leader.

Betsy Howard McIntosh, voted "Best All Around" by the Class of '62, has deserved the title of Senior Leader: her versatility and natural charm have earned her a position of enduring prominence in the minds of her classmates and teachers.

The range of Betsy's activities and honors have indicated her versatility. While maintaining a high scholastic average, she served as Class Parliamentarian during her junior and senior years, was captain of the cheerleading squad, and reigned as our 1961 Homecoming Queen. In the realm of student government, Betsy served Warwick in various ways. A member of the S.C.A. Congress and an alternate delegate to the S.C.A. Federation, she was one of four girls chosen in 1961 to represent Warwick at Girls' State.

Betsy's school and extracurricular activities have taught us sportsmanship and leadership. We will all remember her out-going personality, vitality, and sincerity.

Betsy will continue her education at Westhampton College in the fall.

Leaders

Rebecca Sue Burgess, characteristically thinking for herself, inspired last year the formation of an American Field Service Chapter at Warwick High School. As president of the new chapter, she led A.F.S. operations, as well as her many other activities in high school.

Intellectually interested in all fields of knowledge, Becky was a charter member of the Warwick High National Honor Society. During the summer of her junior year, she worked in the Biology Department of the University of Maryland under a National Science Foundation plan.

As a senior, Becky served as S.C.A. parliamentarian and was on the Homecoming Court, the third time for this distinction. Interested also in dramatic productions, Becky played in two consecutive one-act plays, was a member of the state competition-winning cast of "Carousel," and was a Thespian.

In the fall Becky will enter Duke University where she will continue to be a leader.

Mary Susan DeAlba, an outstanding senior leader and a promising journalist, served as Editor-in-Chief of the Earle this year. In her junior year she was a delegate to both the Southern Interscholastic Press Association in Lexington and the Ford Teenage Press Conference in Detroit. She also was a national winner in the News Writing Division of a contest, sponsored by the International Quill and Scroll. Her many S.C.A. activities also marked Susan as a leader. She served as S.C.A. reporter this year, vice-president of junior class, and a delegate to two S.C.A. conventions. She was Publicity chairman of the A.F.S. Chapter, and member of the National Honor Society and of Quill and Scroll. Susan's friendly diplomacy and fine work in many phases of school life have entitled her to the honor of Senior Leader.

Best wishes from all of Warwick are extended to Susan as she attends Westhampton next year.

COLUMBUS DIDN'T KNOW EITHER!

The future and what it will bring is always veiled in mystery. Present day trials and tribulations make us all wonder what lies ahead, just as Columbus and his crew must have wondered when they traveled the uncharted waters of the Atlantic. Whatever we find in our "new world," however, financial security will always be desirable. You can chart that course by planning to save a definite sum each week.

Come in NOW and open your savings account at any one of our 3 convenient locations.

College, perhaps? Wonderful! A job? Wonderful, too, if it's the right one—with opportunities to progress and learn as well as earn. There are many such jobs at C&P, waiting for girls like you. In a telephone job, you not only start with good pay but are specially trained to make more. Raises and advancements are frequent. Surroundings are pleasant—people are friendly—and your work is never dull. Why not make your first job a telephone job—one that can lead to a happy, rewarding career?

The World's Best Yearbooks Are Taylor-made

Dear Bill,
You sure did add a lot to French class this year. Best of luck in the future and stay happy. (Francoise sends her love)

My good Bell, (now isn't that a strange adjective)
I have enjoyed being in your presence throughout 3rd period for two semesters. Always have good luck.
David Layne

Bill I don't know what we can do with you. I wish you the best of luck.
Love,
Kaki

Bill,
I guess I'll have to say something nice, since it's only proper. It's been a lot of fun (Knock on wood) this year. Never forget all the wonderful (Cough, Cough) times we've had in homeroom, English, & Algebra. Seriously - keep your smiling personality & you'll go far in life.
Love ya!
Pam Saunders
Bill,
It's been fun knowing you this year. Keep studying and you might make it. (Ha)
